Hays County CERT

Hays County CERT

Community volunteers and emergency services officials teamed up to improve our ability to meet any emergency throughout Hays County. The result was the Hays County Community Emergency Response Team, or CERT.

Sponsored by the Hays County Office of Emergency Services (OES), CERT serves each section of the county. A component of the Department of Homeland Security, CERT began in Hays County in February 2003 and now has more than 300 members.

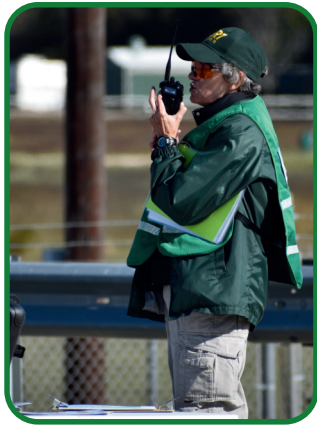

About CERT

The CERT program educates residents about disaster preparedness for hazards that may impact their area, including floods, hurricanes, wildfires, active shooters, major disasters and more.

CERT members are trained in basic disaster response skills: fire safety, light search and rescue, first aid, disaster medical operations, team organization and providing emergency response to victims.

Using their training, CERT members can assist their neighborhood or workplace following an event when professional first responders are not immediately available.

CERT members are encouraged to support emergency response agencies by taking an active role in emergency preparedness projects in their community,
